Stephen Dahmer, MD

As Director of the Andrew Weil Center for Integrative Medicine (AWCIM), Dr. Stephen Dahmer is a champion for integrative medicine and an integral force in transforming modern healthcare. As a cornerstone of the University of Arizona, AWCIM empowers thousands of healthcare practitioners to deliver evidence-based, integrative care that profoundly impacts lives. In his dual role as director and practicing physician, Dr. Dahmer is unwavering in his commitment to pioneering new standards in compassionate, patient-centered care through research, teaching, and clinical practice.

Dr. Dahmer's dedication to reshaping healthcare has taken him across the globe, from the favelas of Brazil and the Maori iwi communities in New Zealand to service as a hospitalist in the Navajo Nation in Arizona. With a medical degree from the University of Wisconsin-Madison and fellowship training in Integrative Family Medicine at AWCIM, his distinguished career has included academic and clinical roles at institutions such as Mount Sinai School of Medicine, Albert Einstein College of Medicine, and the University of Arizona. He is triple board certified in Family, Integrative, and Lifestyle Medicine.

THE JEWISH HEALTHCARE NETWORK (JHN), a newly launched initiative by Jewish Philanthropies of Southern Arizona (JPSA), aims to connect Jewish healthcare professionals across the industry. This program provides opportunities for meaningful networking, collaboration, education and engagement with peers in the field.

JHN is an expansion of the Maimonides Society to include donors to JPSA's campaign at all levels.

The Maimonides Society recognizes healthcare professionals donating $1,500 or more to JPSA's Annual Campaign.
